

Can organically cultivated grains that are ground into flour then be bleached/bromated and still be labeled as organic?

No, bleaching/bromating of organic flour is prohibited. The agents that are used to bleach flour, such as calcium peroxide and nitrogen dioxide, are synthetic substances that are not on the National List.

e-CFR